Broderbund Opens Support Center in Commodore Software Showcase

Broderbund has come to Q-Link! This major Commodore software publisher now supports all of its products in the Software Support Center in the Commodore Software Showcase (CSS).

Discover new hints and strategies for Broderbund's creativity, productivity, entertainment, and educational software. Get answers directly from the company's customer service department in San Rafael, California. Read up on new products not yet introduced on the market — like the Arcade Game Construction Kit due out this month!

Attend this month's Auditorium event and talk directly with the designer who created the Arcade Game Construction Kit. Product Manager Greg Hammond from Broderbund will answer your questions about this exciting new product on June 30 at 10 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium.

Support for Your Favorite Products

Two of the most popular Broderbund products are "The Print Shop" and "Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego?" "The Print Shop," introduced in 1984, was recently voted by Q-Link members, in our annual People's Choice Awards, as the best productivity package of the year. This package allows you to create your own personal letterhead, greeting cards, signs, banners, and more.

Adventure, mystery, and learning are skillfully combined in "Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego?" This geography and research skill building program recently won "Best Educational Software" in Q-Link's People's Choice Awards.

Exchange information with other members on the message boards in Broderbund's area. Post your questions on the message boards for Broderbund's Customer Support and Technical Support Teams to answer. Talk directly with the designers and programmers who developed these products at special forums like the June 30 event in the Auditorium.

All of Broderbund's products are catalogued in the software publisher's area. Read up on the products that interest you. Exchange messages on Broderbund's message boards with other Q-Link members and Broderbund staff to choose the right programs for you. You can then purchase these products online and have them sent to your home!

New Product Info First

Read about new products before they're introduced on the market. Press releases about product upgrades and other news from Broderbund go directly online from Broderbund headquarters in the Product Information area.

Broderbund's newsletter can be found online in Broderbund's area. Read up on new contests and sweepstakes that Broderbund is sponsoring, get the latest news on upgrades, and special feature stories from inside Broderbund.

The Rest of the Best

Broderbund joins other major Commodore software publishers in CSS' Software Support Center. Get fast, accurate help from Berkeley Softworks, Abacus, Activision, DataSoft, Electronic Arts, Epyx, Firebird Licensees, MicroProse, and Timeworks. Each publisher has its own area in the Center.

Design Your Own Arcade Game

Whip up your own arcade classics with Broderbund's new Arcade Game Construction Kit.

Develop fantastically complex backdrops and mazes. Pepper them with booby traps, pitfalls, and barriers. Add your own characters.

You don't need to know a thing about programming. Just a little cunning and a touch of imagination. The easy to use pull-down menus and simple joystick and keyboard commands help you execute brilliant designs.

Four game editors provide access to databases of background patterns, animation, sounds, and special effects. Use these building blocks to construct games with as many as 50 different levels, eight different fully animated characters, and infinite possibilities for variation.

Give your creative mind the room to roam. Find out more about this exciting, soon-to-be-released product on June 30 at 10 p.m. in People Connection Auditorium.

The Q-Link Phenomenon: Friendships and Relationships in Our Online Community

You probably became aware of the "phenomenon" shortly after you first signed on to Q-Link. You found yourself in a room in People Connection, and the conversation went something like this:

RJScott: Hey, everyone! There's a QWedding in Bonnie's Bar!

EileenC: ::heading to Bonnie's::

YOU: A QWedding?

RJScott: A couple gets married online...

YOU: You mean for real?

RJScott: For real...well....they think so!

YOU: How could you marry someone you met online?

RJScott: ;) (a wink)

Members meeting and falling in love. Members developing personal and professional friendships that spill into their offline lives. It's the "Q-Link phenomenon" that we rarely discuss or define. But it's one of Q-Link's most alluring features.

"The anonymity afforded members on Q-Link is one of its most important features."

When Quantum's staff first developed Q-Link's software, little did they know the impact of anonymous "screen names." Q-Link developers were concerned about protecting members' identities on what they hoped would be a large, national telecommunications network. Rather than institute the impersonal "account numbers" prevalent on other networks, Quantum's staff reasoned it would be much more personable, and entertaining, to allow members to create an online name.

"We imagined members creating online personas," says Cathleen Anderson, Quantum's vice president of Online Services. "We thought members could create likenesses of themselves, but also be 'TSelleck' or 'LindaEvans' if they wished."

No one could have imagined the impact of the decision.

"The anonymity afforded members on Q-Link is one of its most important features," says "Arrienne" (screen name), a mental health professional and counselor who monitors the Issues in Mental Health message boards in Just For Fun's Family Center.

Barriers to Friendships Fade

"It's very easy to hide behind your screen name, especially in the comfort of your own home. Anonymity strips away members' initial biases — discriminating factors that might make them choose one personal relationship over another," she says.

These factors include sex, race, creed, color, modes of expression, and dialect.

Arrienne adds: "This anonymity is a huge plus for Q-Link, leading members to forge relationships they might never have attempted before. It allows them to pursue friendships without caution.

Arrienne believes that the anonymous, online environment leads members to "get to the heart of the person first, and get to the person's external characteristics second."

Preconceptions and misconceptions are discarded as members initiate more personal conversations, debate politics and philosophies, and share memories of times online. Unlikely friendships develop over shared interests and experiences.

Arrienne thinks the Q-Link way of getting to know people has a very real and important impact on members' offline lives.

"Q-Link teaches you to be open to all types of people, rather than reinforcing personal biases." This lesson is not forgotten when members turn off their computers."

Immediate Closeness

In her informal discussions with members about how their online relationships developed, Arrienne says that members express a feeling of almost immediate closeness with other members. Relationships online seem to progress faster than offline. And this progression seems to follow a predictable pattern.

"Q-Link teaches you to be open to all types of people, rather than reinforcing personal biases."

First, two people meet online and share conversations about their families, jobs, personal problems, and past relationships. Then, they exchange phone numbers and wrestle with the thought of communicating by voice. After the voice connection has been made, they discuss the inevitable face-to-face meeting.

"After they meet in person," says Arrienne, "the relationship proceeds at light speed. It's 'Yes' or 'No.' 'All' or 'Nothing.' "

To a new member or someone who has never used an online service before, this progression might be troubling. A typical response might be: How can you be serious about someone you've never met? But to a member who knows the anonymity and intimacy of online communications, being swept off your feet at first meeting is not out of the question.

Neither is it odd to have a best friend you've never met face to face.

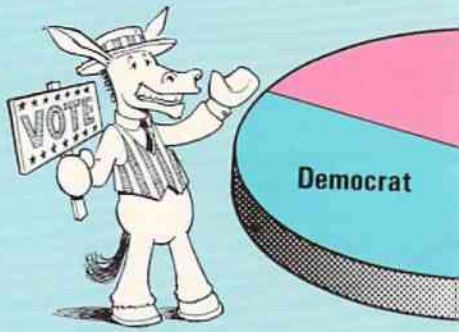
Abusing Confidences

There are negatives associated with anonymous screen names. Some members do portray themselves as people they are not. Members have been duped, dumped, and have ended up broken-hearted.

Arrienne sees the bright side: "A month or so ago, I held a conference on relationships in the Family Center. A number of men at the conference didn't understand why women online found some men's persistence at sending suggestive online messages disruptive and insulting. They were just having fun, the men said."

"So, I suggested they create female screen names and cruise the lobbies in People Connection as available females. After receiving some rather brash online messages, their eyes were opened."

Who Are These People?



According to Jane Holtje, Quantum's Acquisitions Marketing manager, the people who choose to become online communicators and subscribe to Q-Link are a unique bunch, as if you didn't know.

Of all the heads of households who subscribe, Holtje says that 41.2% are in "professional/management" careers. More than 25 % have "technical" careers; 15% are students; 15% hold other occupations. Sixty eight percent of Q-Link members are over age 30.

Here are even more impressive figures — nearly 82% of Q-Link's membership has attended college. About 78% make more than $30,000 a year.

"Our impressions of Q-Linkers are confirmed through their participation in online Opinion Polls and Election Straw Polls," says Jane DeLorenzo, Quantum's producer of news and education services. "Gauging from their activity in our debate boards and polls, they are well-educated and have a very strong interest in politics. They appear to be up-to-date and aware of current events."

According to DeLorenzo, the party preferences of Q-Linkers hover around 42% Republican, 33% Democrat, 20% Independent,and 4% other. Q-Linkers' interest in building upon their work skills and education is evidenced by their attendance in classes at Quantum Community College (QCC), located in the Learning Center.

"Last semester at QCC, we had the best registration ever. The most popular courses were accounting, BASIC programming, business survey, typing and word processing," says DeLorenzo. "But we also had a great interest in the Japanese language class!"

Eileen Clark, Quantum's assistant producer of communications, has some interesting data about Q-Linkers, compiled in the QMatch Show Survey. The survey is used to produce the QMatch Show every month in People Connection's Auditorium. During the show, contestants are asked to guess fellow Q-Linkers' most popular answer to each survey question.

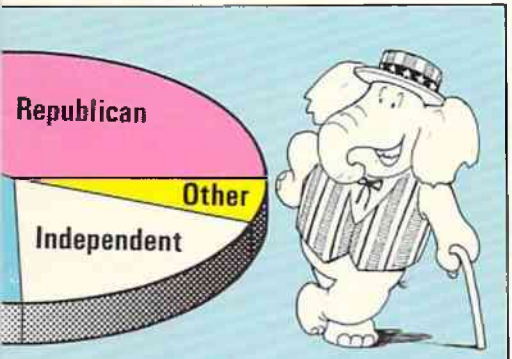
According to Clark, Q-Linkers' fa-

A Unifying Experience

What conclusions can we draw here? Q-Link seems to be doing much more than we bargained for. Not only is it bringing people online, it's bringing-people together.

We now know that in our online community, Q-Link members share more than computer information and software, hobbies and news. They share a perspective on people.

And most importantly, they share feelings.



vorite music is rock, followed by pop, jazz, then country/western. Their favorite comic strip is "The Far Side," followed by "Peanuts," "Bloom County," then "Doonesbury." Their favorite TV programs are the "Bill Cosby Show," followed by "Family Ties," and "Cheers."

They prefer RC Cola over Coke and Pepsi. They prefer coffee with their Q-Link, even more than beer or soda. And the majority of 'Linkers take their coffee with cream and sugar.

As for books, they prefer mysteries, political commentary, romance novels and biographies.

If they could have their way, members would pit Mario Cuomo against George Bush in Election '88. And, like George Bush, they don't like Dan Rather. Their favorite newscaster is Tom Brokaw, followed by Peter Jennings.

How fellow Linkers Q-mmunicate!

Sometimes words aren't enough. Try these Q-Link expressions next time you say hello, emphasize a point, laugh, smile or feel mischievious!

General/Beginners Computing Support Group:For the New and Not-so-new to Computing

New and not-so-new members should look into what the Commodore Information Network's (CIN) General/Beginners Computing Support Group has to offer.

Along with a library full of helpful text and programs to download, message boards, and up-to-the-minute computing news, this group has something even more special to offer—the expertise of long-time Commodore enthusiast Jim Oldfield.

Jim has had years of experience in the world of Commodore computing. As both a hobby and a career, computing keeps Jim busy nearly 24-hours a day! In his day-time job, Jim is vice president of Micro-PACE Computers, a large computer distributor in Illinois.

Prior to joining Micro-PACE, Jim worked for many years in computer retail. "I literally had every type of machine imaginable." Working with all types of machines and all types of people with different computing needs, Jim developed a talent for matching a person's needs with the right equipment.

In the General/Beginners Support Group, Jim helps members evaluate their needs and recommends both software and hardware. "If you can understand your machine better, you can make better decisions later. And your Commodore won't end up in the garage!"

Don't Be Shy, Ask!

Jim has been active in many user groups, but sees the Computing Support Group on Q-Link as offering a unique medium for beginners. "I talk to a lot of user groups where people feel shy about asking questions in front of everyone else." One of the best qualities of the online medium is that people can ask those questions and not feel awkward.

"Over the years, I have run into many of the same problems new users have encountered. I began learning the ins and outs of this machinery just as you will: by asking lots of questions."

Helpful Text and Info

The libraries in CIN's General/Beginners Support Group contain pertinent information for those new to computing, or new to Q-Link. Under "Helpful Text and Info" in the Support Group, you can download a map of Q-Link to show you what's where on the system. There's also an updated file containing the latest in "Q Shorthand"—you know, those funny symbols people write after a phrase to emphasize a feeling.

Monthly Forums

Another of Jim's laundry list of computing experiences is his affiliation with The Midnite Software Gazette/The Paper. The Gazette, co-founded by Jim, was one of the first national magazines for Commodore computer users. The Gazette is now part of Info Magazine.

Jim runs the Midnite Software Gazette/Info Auditorium event held every third Friday of each month in People Connection's Auditorium. Bob Baker, who runs our new Product Information Area in the Commodore Software Showcase, and Info Magazine editor Bob Brown, join Jim in this event. "Between the three of us, we cover a lot of ground," Jim notes. Check Update's calendar for dates and times.

People Connection

YOUR P.C. COMPANION

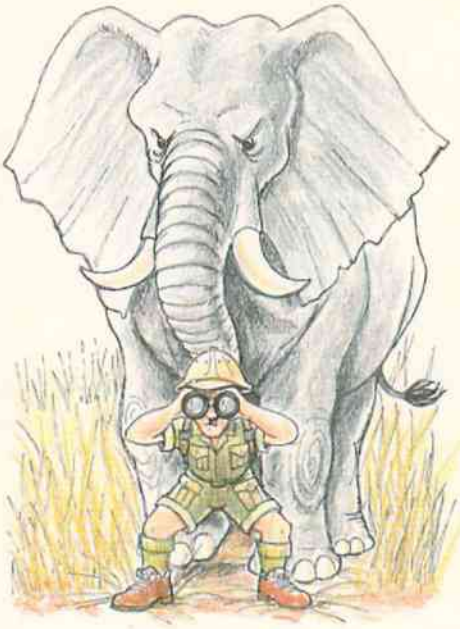
by EileenC

Pack your bags and make your reservations! The "Grand Q Hotel" opens its doors for the vacation season on Friday, June 3. Check into the "Grand Q," located in Just For Fun's QSociety, for an entire month of June fun. To make you feel welcome, the hotel's staff will roll out the red carpet at their "Check-in Party," 10 p.m. on Saturday, June 4 in special People Connection rooms. And for late night 'Linkers, the staff will feature a "Welcome Party" at midnight!

After checking into the Grand Q, set your sails for high adventure! We're taking you on an exciting "African Safari," 1 a.m. on Sunday, June 12 in People Connection.

Then, get ready for dancin' in the streets at Q's exclusive "Block Party" at 10 p.m. on Saturday, June 25 in special P.C. rooms. The Block Party will feature jazz music, food vendors, an art exhibit and more!

For complete information about our June Parties, check online in the Special Events area of P.C. Link, located in Just For Fun's QSociety.



More June Highlights

Q-Link celebrates Dads. Bring your dad to our festive Father's Day Party at 10 p.m. on Saturday, June 18 in special P.C. rooms. The fun continues at our late night Father's Day Bash at midnight! We'll be awarding prizes to lots of dads!

Stump the SysOps. We dare you to Stump the SysOps of the Commodore Information Network at 9 p.m. on Friday, June 10 in the Auditorium. If you ask our SysOps a Commodore computer-related question that they can't answer, you could win a prize of free Plus hours! Learn about Commodore computing while having lots of fun.

Bring your questions about Commodore computing to the four Forums hosted by Commodore Business Machine engineers in June! For dates and times, consult your Update calendar.

Berkeley Softworks hosts an exclusive Forum at 10 p.m. on Thursday, June 9 in the Auditorium. Join BSW representative Rob Siegel to learn about GEOS, the menu and icon-based operating system for the Commodore 64. You could win a free BSW software package just for being in the audience!

Learn about the hottest summer software releases at our June software publisher Forums, hosted by representatives from Epyx, Timeworks, Activision, Electronic Arts, and Broderbund. Each publisher will award free software packages to lucky 'Linkers who attend the Forums. For Forum dates and times, consult your Update calendar.

USA TODAY* hosts Nightly News. Representatives from USA TODAY return to Q-Link's Auditorium to discuss the latest happenings in professional and collegiate sports at 9 p.m. on Thursday, June 2. Meet editors and reporters from USA TODAY's Money, Life, Sports, and News departments during their weekly discussions in People Connection's Nightly News room at 9 p.m. each Thursday throughout June.

Game show fever continues. You could be a contestant at one of Q-Link's six June game shows! Find out how by visiting the new Auditorium Briefing Center, located in P.C. Link in Just For Fun's QSociety. We'll be awarding lots of great prizes throughout the month — including free Plus hours, televisions, cassette players, microwaves and more!

Hypnotism Forum. Meet professional hypnotist Tony Padgett, at 8 p.m. on Sunday, June 5 in the Auditorium. Tony will feature an interesting presentation about what hypnotism is and how it is used, both clinically and for show.

P.C. keeps you informed. You'll learn all sorts of helpful information (while having lots of fun!) at our three People Connection Forums during June. First, the P.C. staff kicks off the month with a Game Shows and Auditorium Forum at 11 p.m. on Tuesday, June 14. Bring your questions about game show rules and Auditorium functions. Then, find out how you can become a People Connection room host or Auditorium emcee at New Talent Night, 11 p.m. on Tuesday, June 21. We'll award prizes to lots of lucky audience members. And find out what it takes to become a P.C. Bartender at our exclusive Bartending Forum at 11 p.m. on Monday, June 27. All People Connection Forums are held in the Q-Link Auditorium.

Attention Hulk Hogan fans: Are you a fan of Hulk Hogan, Ravishing Rick Rude or Honky Tonk Man? Then, you won't want to miss our exciting Pro Wrestling Forum, hosted by wrestling enthusiasts Arnie Katz and Bill Kunkel, at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, June 22 in the Auditorium. Arnie and Bill will give you the inside scoop on all your favorite World Wrestling Federation wrestlers!

QGraphics Gallery hosts weekly contest. You could win a prize just for posting a QGraphics design on the Drawing Board in the QGraphics Gallery! Each week, "QGRAPH Jon," "QGRAPH Dav," and "QGRAPH Ice" choose the Drawing Board's top graphics posting and award the designer with two free Plus hours! For details about the contest, or about the Gallery, stop by the QGraphics Forum at 10 p.m. on Thursday, June 2 in the Auditorium. Or visit the QGraphics Gallery, located in Just For Fun's QSociety.

Rooms, rooms, and more rooms. Just when you thought it was safe to venture into People Connection... you guessed it... we've added even more new rooms! Fly the friendly skies of Q-Link in the Quantum Airlines room at 8 p.m. on Sundays. You'll travel to lots of exotic and interesting places. Then, match wits with fellow academics in the Intellectual Snobs room, 10 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays. For serious discussions about the triumphs and troubles faced by men in the 80s, drop by the Men's Issues room at 10 p.m. on Thursdays. And biking enthusiasts won't want to miss the Motorcyclists room at 11 p.m. on Saturdays.

Check Update's calendar for Forums with graphics experts Wayne Schmidt and Lou Wallace, Commodore guru Jim Butterfield, and magazine editor Jim Oldfield of the Midnite Software Gazette. Also, make a note of our Family Center Forum dates, featuring fitness expert Alison Evans, mental health professional Joe Carra and much more! And don't forget our Q-Link Guided Tours, Tuesdays at 9:30 p.m. and Saturday mornings at 12:30 a.m.

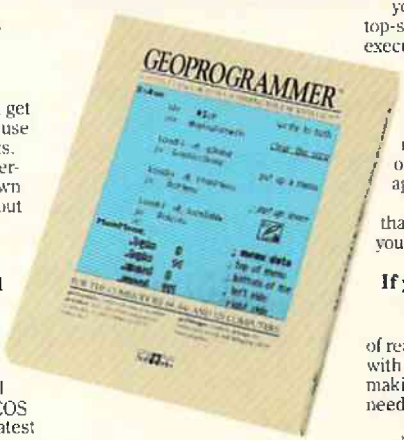
WORK WITH US ON A PROFESSIONAL LEVEL.

Some people really like working on their machines. And then there are some who prefer to do their tinkering under the hood. For those of you who can't wait to get your hands greasy, we proudly introduce geoProgrammer. The most sophisticated machine language programming tool on the market.

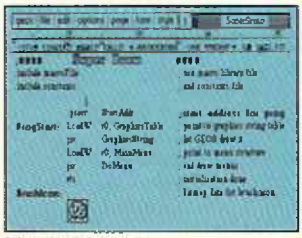
With geoProgrammer, you get the same kind of technology we use for developing our other products. Which means you can write supercharged software. Pump your own programs. And assemble just about any kind of application you can imagine.



It reads and writes and stomps on bugs.

The first three tools that any serious programmer needs are an assembler, a linker and a debugger. So we've installed all three, complete with sample GEOS applications that teach you the latest programming tricks in seconds.

geoAssembler not only reads directly from geoWrite files, but contains enough Pseudo Ops to allow all kinds of conditional assemblies. It has all the state-of-the-art features you'd expect, including some you probably never thought possible. For example, integrating graphics is as simple as cutting and pasting the image from geoPaint directly into your program.



geoLinker ties your program modules together, supporting GEOS SEQ and VLIR applications and desk accessories. You can even use geoAssembler and geoLinker to create non-GEOS applications.

geoDebugger allows your program to be tested in memory with full symbolic disassembly, along with line assembly for patching code in memory. It also allows your code to be single-stepped or top-stepped, with sub-routines fully executed. It can stop a running program with one key, or use up to eight conditional breakpoints. When your program hits the breakpoint, it prominently displays the error in an overlay window, leaving the applications screen intact.

Pro enough for you yet? Well, that's only a partial list of what you're in for.

If you understood all that, read on.

Chances are that we lost a lot of readers by now. But if you're still with us, hang in there. You have the makings of a real GEOS pro. All you need now are the right tools.

And all of them come in this one handy box.

So if you're serious about programming, consider geoProgrammer. After all, you've got nothing to lose—except your amateur status.

To order geoProgrammer online, go to the Commodore Software Showcase and select "GEOS Arena."

Explore Today's Issues and Concerns

Just For Fun (JFF) has your interests and concerns in mind. Discuss the issues affecting you and your family with caring professionals. See what our clubs and JFF Centers have planned for you in June.

Participate in an informative discussion on the topic of AIDS; attend a Family Center forum on coping with suicide or on getting in shape for summer. On the lighter side, win prizes for perplexing the Fiction and Fantasy club hosts, and win Plus hours for discovering trivia clues.

Crossroads Cafe Sponsors AIDS Forum

Few communicable diseases have had the potential to shape modern history as much as AIDS. What has been done about AIDS and what mysteries remain to be solved? How would you cope if you or someone you know contracted AIDS? Find the answers to these and a host of other questions in a panel discussion sponsored by the Crossroads Cafe located in Just For Fun's Entertainment Center. Meet victims, their counselors, and health care professionals on June 7 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium.

Discuss Family Issues in Suicide

Find out how to spot depression in teenagers. Learn to look for the warning signs. Understanding the symptoms can help prevent teen depression and suicide. Dr. Robert Ammerman from the University of Pittsburgh Department of Psychiatry answers your questions about suicide and its impact on the family on Monday, June 6 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium.

Read up on other issues and concerns affecting families on the Family Center's message board in Just For Fun.

Get in Shape for Summer

It's that time of year again! Learn how to get into shape and stay that way from health and fitness experts "Alison Ann," "DebbiS," and "KarenC7" on Friday, June 3 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium. Before the Forum, get shape-up hints from articles and messages on the Health and Fitness message boards in JFF's Family Center.

Out Wit the Fiction and Fantasy Club Hosts

Stump the Fiction and Fantasy club hosts at their Stump the Hosts Forum June 11 at 8 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium. Pose a question about any literary topic. If a host cannot answer it, you'll win Plus hours, Q-Link t-shirts and more. The Fiction and Fantasy Club is located in JFF's Entertainment Center.

Hunt for Trivia

Hunt for hints, solve the riddle, and win Plus hours! The Trivia Club will hide hints on message boards throughout Just For Fun. Each hint will clue you in on the riddle and lead you to another hint. When all the hints are discovered, the riddle can be solved. E-Mail the entire riddle and solution to "Stique," the Trivia Club co-host. The first person to correctly answer the riddle wins six hours of Plus time. Four hours of Plus time will be awarded to a second place winner, with two Plus hours going to third place. The Trivia Club is located in JFF's Entertainment Center.

Contest begins June 1. For more information, look in the Special Events & Contests area of Just For Fun's "Tonight!" section.

Summer Phantasies

The Phantasy Guild is pleased to usher in the summer with new and exciting role playing games. The Phantasy Guild, Q-Link's Role Playing Game Club in Just For Fun's Entertainment Center, is open to everyone, and best of all - no experience is necessary!

Check "Tonight!" in Just For Fun (JFF) to find out what's going on in the Guild. All of the Guild's games and other events are listed in these areas for your convenience. Also check the Weekly Calendar in the Phantasy Guild.

Guild Games Roundup

This month, the Guild is sponsoring two Auditorium events. The first event is a Games Roundup hosted by guild master, GM Bolan. GM Bolan and other expert game masters will be on hand in People Connection's Auditorium June 11 at 10 p.m. to discuss many different role playing games. Discuss Dungeons and Dragons, Star Frontiers, Doctor Who, Gamma World, Star Wars, Star Trek, and others. If you're unfamiliar with role playing games or if you would like to learn about any of these games, grab a seat in the Auditorium.

Defeat the Villains

Embark on the Guild's new adventure, Villains, at 10 p.m. on Saturday, June 25 in People Connection's Auditorium. This brand new, original adventure created by guild master, GM IC has a unique twist: the audience is the adventuring party, and the people on stage are the Villains! Come on down and join the fun and help defeat the bad guys.

Meet Fellow Gamers

Be sure to visit the Guild's Red Dragon Inn (RDI) room, open every night at 9 p.m. in People Connection. The RDI is the Phantasy Guild's "hangout" in PC. Stop in and have a pint of ale or a glass of dreamberry wine. A Guild RDI tender will be happy to assist you. Please note: warriors will have to check their weapons at the door in lieu of certain recent "skirmishes" that resulted in some severe structural damage to the Inn. To avoid further wars, the Guild respectively requests your compliance with this policy (hehehe).

The Guild is happy to bring you role playing at its finest. If you have any further questions, contact one of the Guild Hosts: Bolan, OnyxQ, SaltheartQ, Elezar, ICwhatUmin, or She Elf by posting a message on the Guild's boards!

Casino Celebrations Never Cease

Our Casino first year anniversary celebration went so well, I think it's time to celebrate another festive occasion. And conveniently enough, it's the Casino staff's (QRJs) birthday!

One year ago this June 3rd, the QRJs made their smash debut at our first Casino Night, and since then, they've done a tremendous job in making the Casino the hopping place it is now.

In order to give the staff a chance to comb their ears and wipe their brows, I'm going to give you folks another reason to come and play in the Casino: a month-long tournament covering all four games.

Prizes will include a real slot machine for the grand prize winner; Plus time, t-shirts, and Casino playing cards for the runners-up. All you need to do to play is join in on any Casino game—we'll automatically deal you into the tournament!

Along with the June tournament, more celebrating will be happening in the Casino and in People Connection. On June 3 at 10 p.m., look for People Connection rooms "QRJS HOPPY BDAY 1" and "QRJS HOPPY BDAY

2." In room "1," you'll find the QRJs playing the Trivia Answer Game, and in room "2," you'll find their own game, Chain Reaction. Both games are great fun, and we'll be giving away Casino disks, Q-Chips, Q-Pons, and a deck or two of Casino playing cards.

On June 3, we'll be hosting another Trivia game in the Casino's Bingo Parlor. We'll be asking you questions about the QRJs and the Casino. And, naturally, you can win prizes galore!

For all the Casino's hopping June events, check my very own Casino Calendar right here in the Update!

Rabbits, Bulls, and Bears?

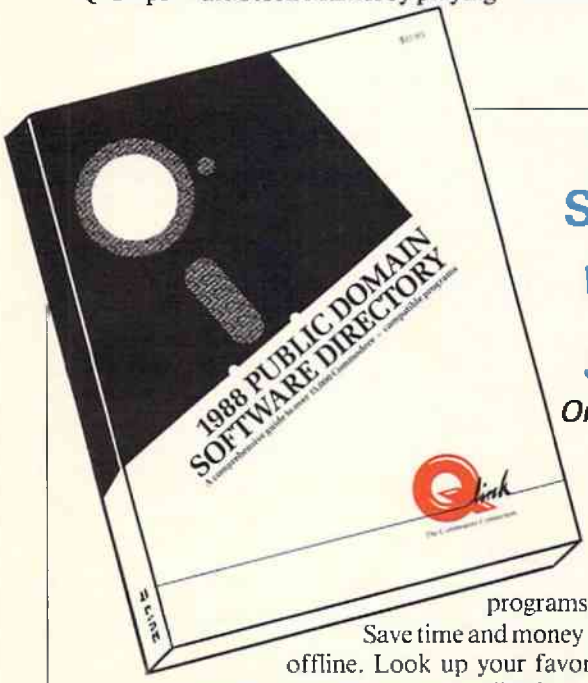
What an odd combination! But the gambling rabbit (that's me!) and the stock market bull and bear have joined to plan an exciting game for you. Win Q-Chips in the Stock Market by playing the Bulls & Bears stock market game in the month of June!

For this month only, play the Bulls & Bears game located in News & Information under StockLink, and we'll credit your Q-Chip balance with the number of play-dollars you win in the Bulls & Bears!

You'll start with $100,000 (fake money, of course). For example, if the value of your stocks go up $50,000 at the end of the month, we'll have the Casino Cashier give you 50,000 Q-Chips! If you make $25,000, we'll give you 25,000 Q-Chips!

You can also win prizes just for playing Bulls & Bears! For details on how to play Bulls & Bears, look in StockLink in News & Information.

The excitement is in the Casino and StockLink in June. Come visit the bulls, bears, and the hopping QRJs, and get crackin' on winning those Q-Chips!



Build Your Own Software Library

With Q-Link's 1988 Public Domain Software Directory

On sale now for just $11.95

You'll find over 15,000 public domain programs listed in Q-Link's latest software directory — the largest collection of Commodore - compatible programs available anywhere!

Save time and money by browsing through the libraries offline. Look up your favorite programs on entertainment, music, business, home applications, graphics, and more. Plus, get step-by-step directions for formatting disks, downloading, and uploading files into the Q-Link libraries.

Order the directory online in the Q-Link Store in The Mall, or call 1-800-782-2278.

This Month's Special Review:

night flight

uploaded by BluLink
08/23/87
(CIN-Software Libraries-Browse C64 Software-GameWorld-Arcade-Air/Sea)

Take off on a night flight in a light plane. This flight simulator program challenges you to fly through the night, navigating with just the cockpit instruments. Tune the radio, check the weather, and edit a full range of features for complete control.

With the keyboard and optional use of a joystick, you can control brake, throttle, elevator, rudder, flaps, radio and transponder, carb heat, landing gear, heading, and lighting. Using the built-in editor, you can set the winds and weather and even the reliability of the aircraft.

Instructions are presented to you when you load and run this program. If you would like to sit back and watch, there is even a demo mode!

Night flight is one of the most complete flight simulator programs available in the public domain. A challenge that will give you hours of fun.

Go to the Top 20 Downloads section of the Software Libraries in the Commodore Information Network for a complete listing of the month's 20 hottest downloads.

EARTH TO BEGIN SPINNING IN OPPOSITE DIRECTION

A shocked consortium of scientists confirmed the world's worst suspicions Tuesday, when they announced that the Earth was indeed slowing down. They expect the planet to grind to a halt early Thursday, reversing its direction and getting back up to speed by Monday night.

Although the research was startling, the scientists urged people not to panic.

"I suppose I'd lock all the breakables in your cabinets," offers Dr. Lee Lievano. "But outside of that, I'd just tell people to hold on and enjoy the ride."

Apparently we're in for quite a ride. Dr. Dennis Rowland demonstrated the effect of the sudden reversal by dropping a raw egg into a MixMaster blender set on "puree."

"If we assume people have the consistency of this egg," Rowland asserted, "I think it's safe to say that the effect of this phenomenon will leave them in a state somewhat similar to finely ground beef."

Asked if there were anything the public could do to prepare for the catastrophe, Dr. Rowland thought a while and offered, "I always recommend fastening your seat belt. It just makes so much sense, don't you think?"

Analyst Staci Glowsky was less distressed with the news, asking "What's the big deal? Jeez, you guys are acting like a bunch of

MAN BITES POODLE!

BERKELEY — Dozens of citizens watched in horror today as a man, who described himself as an animal lover, actually bit a miniature teacup poodle.

Donald Anderson, of Studio City, California, dismissed the incident as a case of mistaken identity.

"Somebody asked me if I wanted a dog with mustard, and since it was close to lunchtime anyway, I just took a bite without looking."

The dog, responding to the name "Knockwurst," then gave out a yelp that bystanders recalled as sounding like "a cross between a gun shot and an air raid siren." In the process, the pinched pooch set a world record in the long jump of thirty feet, two inches.

"Sure it was my mustard, but that doesn't prove a thing!"

Anderson was booked on felony charges of dog munching, poodle endangerment and assaulting a canine with intent to commit relish. He was later released on his own recognizance. The man who offered him the poodle has also been charged with attempting to apply mustard to a misdemeanor in Alameda County.

"It's a sneaky tactic," yelled Rob Siegel, the man still being sought by police. "Sure it was my mustard, but that doesn't prove a thing. Besides, they have to prove with

T MADE GE NEWS.

These days, the biggest story in the news is geoPublish. The page-making program for GEOS-equipped 64's and 128's that replaces lifeless layouts with page after page of powerful, punchy professionalism.

Freedom of the press.

Actually, geoPublish is very patriotic software. After all, what other application guarantees your freedom of self-expression? Well, geoPublish sure does. In fact, every piece it prints is dedicated to the preservation of your personality on paper.

Which means that finally, your newsletters never need to look like anyone else's, ever again.

All you do is draw a bunch of columns for your master layout. They could be two, four or sixteen across the page. They could be short and squat, or long and skinny. It's your call. After that, you just "pour" your geoWrite document, text, graphics and all — into column after column. Page after page.

Everything fills up automatically until it fits firmly into your finely fashioned format.

Extras! Extras! Read all about 'em!

As every editor knows, even the best stories need punching up before they go to press. Which is why geoPublish features an array of artistic appliances designed to earn your pages a place in the history books.

You can resize text. Change fonts. Even insert or delete graphics anywhere on the page. You can lay text over graphics. Graphics over text. Or even wrap text around graphics.

And if your image doesn't fit, no problem. The proportional scaling tool can shrink or enlarge any art, be it your original or the stuff you find in Print Shop.™

Finally, those of you intent on making banner headlines should know that geoPublish doesn't wimp out when it comes to headlines. It screams them out, with genuine, newspaper-sized, 96 point megafonts.

Now, if you think that sounds terrific on paper, just wait until you see it printed out on a Laser-Writer.™

We've saved the best news for last.

And now, for the best part: you can create and save not one, but hundreds of layouts for later use.

And because it's part of the GEOS family, you can fully integrate text and graphics from all your other programs into every geoPublish piece you print.

So now that you know the latest scoop in software, why not subscribe to geoPublish yourself? Who knows? With stuff like this, you could be making front page news in no time.

To order geoPublish online go to the Commodore Software Showcase and select "GEOS Arena."
